

This diagram shows an exploded view of a desk and chair assembly. The desk is a rectangular table with a central support leg and four corner legs. A chair with a backrest and seat is positioned behind the desk. Dashed lines indicate the assembly path for the chair's legs and the desk's legs. The chair's backrest is attached to the seat, and the seat is attached to the chair's legs. The desk's top is attached to the central support leg and the four corner legs. The central support leg is attached to the desk's top and the floor. The four corner legs are attached to the desk's top and the floor. The chair's legs are attached to the chair's seat and the floor. The chair's backrest is attached to the chair's seat and the floor.

PK-Nr. 2791 Stand 02/2019 Ä: 04/2024